1. Leaving three or four spaces in between, write three short sentences that start with a subject and an x-word.

   You have probably written three TRUNKS. Trunks are basic sentence units. They are just enough to make sentences.

2. Write a short sentence beginning with the word Yesterday.
   Write it again in its yes-no question form. What happened to the word Yesterday when you made the question?

   You have just written a TRUNK WITH SHIFTER. A shifter is a position at either end of a trunk for extra information.

3. Write four more trunks with shifters. If the shifter is at the FRONT, label the sentence FT; if at the END, label it TE.
